Dispute Resolution – A Mock Mediation

Steve Pratt, Tony Clarke and Keith Harriss of Knowles will present this mock mediation. It will outline a dispute between a contractor and local council during the refurbishment of a school showing how both parties achieved a successful outcome through mediation.

Monday 24th April 2006

- Venue: University of Cambridge, Madingley Hall,
Madingley, Cambridge, CB3 0JG
- Time: 5.00 pm Tea/Coffee 5.30 pm Start 7.30 pm Buffet
- Cost: £20 CIOB members / £25 non-members
- CPD Value: 2 hours
- Registration: Pre-booking is essential. Please complete the form overleaf and return with payment.
- Contact: Angela Camp acamp@ciob.org.uk 01279 442367

This seminar will offer a practical demonstration as to how a mediation might work and to how it might be suitable for solving a range of disputes cost effectively. Audience participation is involved, as attendees will assume the position of either the employer or the contractor.

Through this meeting you will learn the benefits of mediation:

- It can be organised quickly, is low in cost and the chances of success are high
- Both parties have control over the situation and the outcome
- The Mediator is a facilitator not a judge or adjudicator and there is no need for either party to have legal representation

Numbers will be limited so early booking is recommended.
